Comfy Fit has your back ...and neck.

The Comfy Fit collection is created to deliver everyday comfort for healthcare professionals. With tops and pants in modern fits, it combines practical details and reliable fabrics that make a difference during long shifts.

One of the tops in the collection features the exclusive Ergonomic Neckline, tested by the Hohenstein Textile Testing Institute and healthcare focus groups. This design-protected cut reduces pressure on the cervical vertebra C7, helping to ease strain in the neck and shoulders. Available in several colors, it shows how a small detail can have a big impact on everyday well-being.

The fabric is a blend of TENCEL™ Lyocell and polyester, chosen for softness, durability and easy care. It absorbs moisture, keeps the wearer dry and fresh, and helps reduce bacterial growth. Lightweight and quick-drying, it supports both healthcare professionals with busy routines and professional laundries.

With its mix of ergonomic options, smart details and lasting comfort, Comfy Fit is designed to support those who care for others every day.

Piqué your style.

The Piqué Line brings together the comfort of a polo and the functionality of a tunic, making it a versatile choice for professionals in healthcare and service. The knitted pique fabric ensures flexibility and ease of movement, while woven panels add stability and strength exactly where it is needed, such as around pockets.

Practical details like spacious hip pockets, mobile pockets and key loops support everyday routines, while the variety of colors and styles makes it easy to match both personal preferences and team identity. Each design is tested to deliver comfort, durability and performance throughout long shifts.

More than a uniform, the Piqué Line offers professionals the freedom to choose a look that fits their work and their style, without compromising on functionality.

Tied together with Takumi.

In Japan, Takumi means craftsman, someone who has refined their skills over decades to achieve excellence. Inspired by this dedication, the Takumi Line brings traditional Japanese workwear into a modern setting, tying together comfort, practicality and a clean, contemporary look.

The Takumi Jacket features a relaxed fit and wrap-around closure with an inner tie for extra coverage. With $\frac{3}{4}$ sleeves, a pen pocket and an apron neck strap, it balances tradition with everyday functionality.

The Takumi Pants are designed with inspiration from classic hakama pants, offering a spacious and flexible fit. With an adjustable waistband, multiple pockets and a half-elastic hem at the legs, they deliver freedom of movement throughout the day.

Crafted from Our Choice materials, a durable blend of 50 % recycled polyester and 50 % cotton, the Takumi Line ensures lasting performance while reducing environmental impact. Our workwear. A fit for everyone.

We believe that a good workday begins with the right workwear. Comfort is essential for professionals to perform their best, which is why we are dedicated to developing clothing that prioritizes fit and functionality. Our commitment to creating workwear that meets individual needs is at the heart of everything we do.

To demonstrate this, we organized a photoshoot with our colleagues, where everyone wore the same pants (16410). Despite their widely different shapes and sizes, the result was clear – we have workwear that fits everyone. This proves that finding workwear to fit a larger team is never a problem for us.

The development of our workwear happens in close collaboration with focus groups made up of professionals from relevant industries. Their insights guide us in designing practical garments that address real-world needs. Additionally, our own colleagues are actively involved in testing and refining our products, ensuring an exceptional fit and complete freedom of movement for all body types.

Improper workwear can lead to discomfort and reduced performance. That is why we are committed to creating clothing that not only fits but also empowers professionals to excel. With Kentaur, workwear becomes more than just clothing – it is a tool for daily success.

Materials that matter.

Better Cotton

Kentaur is a proud member of the Better Cotton Initiative. With our membership, we have committed ourselves to improving global cotton cultivation. Better Cotton operates on a mass-balance system, meaning that purchasing a product with the Better Cotton logo does not guarantee the product contains cotton directly sourced from Better Cotton-certified farms. However, by buying a product with sourced Better Cotton, you contribute to a more responsible production of cotton.

We only mark products with the Better Cotton logo when cotton is the dominant material in the product. If you want to learn more about Better Cotton, visit bettercotton.org/massbalance.

REPREVE® recycled Polyester (rPES)

REPREVE® is polyester made from used plastic bottles. REPREVE® works to create a cycle where waste is recycled.

TENCEL™ Lyocell

TENCEL™ Lyocell fibers are derived from controlled or certified wood sources and produced in a closed loop process, which recovers 99,8% of the solvent – resulting in a close-to-zero wastage. The fibers support a natural dry feeling through moisture control and are naturally soft and smooth to the touch. TENCEL™ is a trademark of Lenzing AG.

TENCEL™ Lyocell REFIBRA™ Technology

To produce TENCEL™ Lyocell with REFIBRA™ Technology, wood, and cotton textile waste are used as raw materials. The fibers contain a minimum of 30% recycled materials. TENCEL™ Lyocell fibers with REFIBRA™ Technology offer the same benefits as standard TENCEL™ Lyocell fibers. Like TENCEL™, REFIBRA™ is also a trademark of Lenzing AG.

Cotton (CO)

Cotton is a soft, natural fiber that absorbs moisture effectively, offering excellent comfort. It is also highly durable, second only to synthetic fibers, making it ideal for blending with polyester to create materials that are both durable and hard-wearing.

Polyester (PES)

Polyester is the most used synthetic fiber. When blended with cotton, the optimal mix is 65% PES / 35% CO, ensuring durability and suitability for washing. Polyester enhances the polyester/cotton blend with qualities such as strength, minimal shrinkage, crease resistance, and short drying time, making PES/CO blends particularly suitable for workwear.

Elastane/EOL/EME/Mechanical stretch

Stretch fabrics significantly enhance comfort through elasticity. To maintain elasticity and comfort throughout the product's lifespan, it is important to ensure high recovery. Kentaur uses stretch fabrics created either through firmly spun yarns and the advanced weaving techniques (mechanical or natural stretch) or elastic fibers that can withstand industrial laundry processes without losing their elasticity.

Twill

Twill is a weave characterized by distinctive slanting stripes, as seen in denim. The twill construction produces a structured surface and a supple fabric. Many of our fabrics are twill, because this fabric is good for pants, upper parts, and aprons.

Plain/Panama

Plain weave is the simplest weave. It is the same on both sides, firm and stable, and produces a strong fabric. It is normally used for lighter products such as shirts and functional shirts. Panama is derived from the plain weave, but there are fewer binding points, which produces a softer and more supple fabric. Panama is normally woven in thicker yarns, which combines with the weave to produce a smart structured surface. Panama is used for aprons in our collection.

Piqué

Piqué is a knitted construction commonly used in polo shirts. At Kentaur, piqué is used in garments in our HoReCa & Retail and Healthcare & Service segments. Knitted fabrics generally increase the comfort for the wearer since they have greater elasticity and allow greater freedom of movement than woven fabrics. We collaborate with different producers to ensure that piqué fabrics can be washed in accordance with ISO 15797 and meet requirements for stability of shape and color fastness.

Dyeing

For Textile Service, good color fastness is important. The majority of our collection is vat dyed, which gives the best achievable color fastness against light, weather and washing. Furthermore, they withstand bleach better than other dyes, ensuring that Kentaur products can be handled according to ISO 15797 and a variety of hygiene standards. Our OEKO-TEX® STANDARD 100 certificate ensures that the dyes and chemicals, that are used, comply with REACH.

Materials with recycled textiles

Our materials with recycled textiles contain recycled textile fibers from pre- and/or post-consumer textiles. Pre-consumer textiles are textile waste from production, while post-consumer textiles are textiles that have been worn out in their current form. The material quality is developed for industrial laundries, ensuring good durability and colorfastness. The percentage of recycled material in the fabrics can vary from style to style. If you want to know the precise percentage of recycled material, you can always find this information on the individual product.

OEKO-TEX® STANDARD 100

is a certification for products that assures the consumer that no components of a Kentaur product contain substances that are harmful to health or the environment in larger quantities than permitted in product class II (products in contact with the skin).

We have two OEKO-TEX Standard 100 – one for recycled materials (ID no. 2276-363) and one for non-recycled materials (ID no. 1676-235).

In the catalog, you will see the OEKO-TEX logo, but not the exact certification details. However, you can find the specific certification details for each quality on www.kentaur.com

Key to symbols.

ISO 15797

The product complies with the ISO 15797 standard, ensuring it meets the requirements for handling by Textile Service.

Adjustable waist

The product is adjustable at the waist with elastic and button or snap fastener, providing a better fit and added comfort.

Breathe & stretch

The product contains materials that enhance both breathability and mobility.

Comfort stretch

The product's back is cut on the bias, and the diagonal direction allows better elasticity and freedom of movement.

Vat dyed

Used to dye cellulose fibers like cotton and lyocell, these materials get the best attainable color fastness. Vat dyes withstand bleaches better than other dye types.

Reactive dyed

Products are dyed using reactive and dispersed dyes. Clear shades can be obtained with reactive dye. However, they do not tolerate bleaching.

2-way stretch

The product features 2-way stretch fabric, which stretches in only one direction - either horizontally or vertically. This provides flexibility, comfort, and a better fit.

4-way stretch

The product features 4-way stretch fabric, stretching both horizontally and vertically for maximum flexibility, comfort, and unrestricted movement in all directions.

Snap-on apron

The product has press buttons for securely attaching an apron to a chef's jacket.

Pull-Up cuff

Our Pull-Up cuffs have an elastic band and button on the cuff, making it easy to adjust your sleeve in seconds.

Pull-Up sleeve

Pull-Up elastic in the sleeves allows for effortless adjustment. Patented design.

Mobility sleeves

Products with mobility sleeves are designed to keep the jacket in place, preventing it from sliding up during movement.

Interlining

The product has stiffening interlinings from Freudenberg, which meet the requirements of Textile Service (ISO 15797).

Moisture management

The product contains fabric with moisture-absorbent benefits that keep the wearer dry and comfortable all day.

Ergonomic neckline

The neck design evenly distributes the article's weight, giving ergonomic advantages. Registered design DM\221854.
